

The Charming Ladies

ABSTRACT: Dr Kanojia is catching up the NJH tagline with great speed, ie "Materia Medica without tears". This is really an innovative way of learning the remedies. Hope to see similar write-ups for all the forth coming issues...

A very interesting thing happened to the leading ladies, the who's who, of the Homoeonagar. These ladies assembled in the Materia Medica Bhavan for a routine medical examination and lo! everybody had some menstrual ailments. The weepy Pulsatilla who was the first to complain, requested gently to her colleague to open the windows as she was feeling suffocated in a closed room. She said on one hand she had delayed menarche and on the other, her menses were late and scanty. Sabina who was sitting next to her near the open window, had menstruated very early in her life and she grumbled she had too profuse, too early, too protracted, partly fluid and partly clotted menses along with severe pains from sacrum to pubes. The jealous and the loquacious Lachesis had this to say, "I was always better during my chums, but ever since my menopause, I suffer from hot flushes, hot perspiration, piles etc". The contemptuous, young lady Platina gave a lowly look at everyone and said she had immense sexual drive but she goes into spasms during sex, she can't wear sanitary napkins during her period because of the sensitiveness. Sepia the washerwoman who was sitting with tightly closed limbs confided, "Oh! I just don't like sex since my last childbirth and I have irregular menses both early and profuse and late and scanty". Bovista the awkward lady had a pair of scissors in her hand (which made a deep impression on her hand suddenly dropped them) and alleged she menstruated only at the night and not during the daytime. Causticum sympathized with her and said she had her period only during the daytime and it ceased while lying down. Ambra who had dread of people and conversation was sitting alone, now complained that she had blood discharge through the vagina at every little accident like walking, passing stool etc. Nat-mur was not ready to talk because of her reserved nature and also because she felt she would be pitied and consoled, nevertheless she said she feels hot during menses and her periods are irregular and usually profuse. Poor Thlaspi who was drinking buttermilk complained that she hardly recovers from one period before another begins. Philosophy who had come to preach them about the significance of good health and disease free life suggested that they meet the Homoeopath of their area as only he can bail them out.

Sardar 1: What would you do if the bomb explodes while fixing.

Sardar 2: Dont worry, I have one more.

Sardar: What is the name of your car?

Lady: I forgot the name, but is starts with 'T'.

Sardar: Oh, what a strange car, starts with Tea. All cars that I know start with petrol.
