AIMS AND OBJECTIVES: To bring awareness amongst medical fraternity and the health agencies about sudden deaths in young children. (Editor: a study on the role of over-vaccination, especially of the ilk of MMR and other later vaccines)

Srushti, the only child in the world who, with her near dead brain, defeated death.

God blessed Srushti, she has survived, has defeated death through homoeopathy while treating allopaths suggested mercy killing!

She was almost brain dead and the texture of the skin was like a snake. She had a very mysterious condition perhaps unknown to the medical science so far: "Periventricular Perineurium Leucomalacia".

Born premature and underweight in November 2007, she developed signs of brain death after receiving vaccines, then shifted from one hospital to another, from one expert to another, finally declared incurable. Srushti, now 1 year 4 months, suffered with variety of syndromes from the age of just 6 days.

The study will tell about the crisis of children like Srushti who very often die soon after birth or develop neurological symptoms, emotional and behavioural! A problem in present society, which we need to study.

April 11 is World Homeopathy Day. On this day Dr Hahnemann, the founder of Homoeopathy was born. This case is a tribute to him by the author. Periventricular Perineurium Leucomalacia the mysterious disease, was finally solved through the original Philosophy of medical science and was treated through Homoeopathy, the German-Indian System of Medicine.

KEYWORD: Leuco (white), Malacia (dead) is softening of a part in the brain, A Molecule C5 H13, and Nosode-I; an energy from cancer cell.

INTRODUCTION: She was 9 months old, when she was brought to Aarish Academy, a research center of alternative medicine, on September 14, 2008. Prior to that she was under allopaths, passed through various syndromes and was seen by various experts of Mumbai and Thane. Shifted from Bombay Hospital to Jaslok Hospital to J J Hospital. But none could diagnose her illness and finally declared her incurable! At the J J Hospital Mumbai, she was diagnosed to be having Periventricular Leucomalacia but they could not diagnose the cause. Throughout her body there were markings like snake skin, symmetrically arranged, as if some one has tattooed them. One famous dermatologist at G T Hospital linked them to some drug reaction, while experts from Jaslok suggested cyanotic heart disease. Experts at the Nair Hospital were clueless; they didn't find any thing wrong in her brain mapping. Interestingly her organs like eyes, ears and other portions of brain were normal but the child was not able to see, hear or sense either or have any perception or stimuli. It was as if she was totally cut off from all kind of senses; she was like a vegetable. They labeled her disease as delayed milestones! ... a mysterious case.

She was unable to hold her head, could not blink or drink. No response to any painful stimuli, no perception, no sound, no jerk. She was in her mother's lap and constantly rolling by turning here and there something like a snake, the twisting was the only sign of life!

Her respiration and heart beats were fast. Therefore initially some experts labeled it as ARDS and some said cyanotic heart disease. The brain was not reacting but the child was not in coma! Periventricle area is the centre of the brain- the main junction; it was showing leucomalacia- ie, cells were dying in the perinuerium. This was happening may be throughout her body around the nerves! Was it some toxic phlegma which had spread through the center point towards peripheral nerves and which was arranged in a symmetrical manner giving rise to a number of mysterious tattoo marks! She was not able to move her limbs, not even lids but was constantly twisting and rolling her body like a snake. It was as if her spiritual and biological energies were alive but senses were dead! Strange, indeed.

THE CASE

At first glance I thought the child may die as she was having severe respiratory distress and was in very critical condition but her mother was composed. Rapid respiration and tachycardia, but showed no sign of agony or pain. Her parents were worried but not tense since she was status quo for 9 months. They asked whether she will remain like this or become better? "At least to recognize us" told father. The students at the Aarish Academy gathered around her anxiously, wondering how she could be handled.

'Baby Srushti', daughter of Praveen and Jyoti Charate, was born prematurely on 13th November 2007, weighing 1.7 kg and kept in the incubator for few days. On day 6, she developed severe respiratory infection, pneumonia and was referred to Lady Cama Hospital, Mumbai. Received BCG and OPV together on 27/11/2007. Thereafter developed same symptoms with severe intensity. They diagnosed ARDS and suspected A-Cyanotic Heart Disease and therefore was referred to G T Hospital. Here they suspected Patent Ductus Arteriosus and after giving symptomatic treatment sent the child home. Parent noticed that the child didn't return to normal. They took her to Bombay Hospital and Jaslok for opinion.

In the mean time, she was also receiving regular vaccination. (Editor: Not advocated as her poor health would not allow body to react to the vaccine, an important precursor to developing immunity) (First booster of Polio on 26/1/08, Triple, on 26/3/08, 12/4/08 and 12/5/08). At this stage, the child developed severe reactions in the form of meningitis and skin lesions varying from bluish to purple linings, some eruptions and blebs, some septic. She was admitted to G. T. Hospital again in a different unit. Referred to Bombay Hospital, then to Jaslok, to Neurology Dept, J J Hospital and Nair for their opinion.

At Jaslok, on 13th June 2008, she was sent for analyzing clinical neurophysiology with a note 'known case of cyanotic heart disease with neonatal meningitis and delayed milestones. Her fundus was normal, they asked for VER/ERG evaluation. Experts from Jaslok commented thus: Normal for age findings of retinal and optic nerve function in both eyes. About her heart they didn't find any abnormality through Doppler Echocardiography. At Bombay Hospital, Dept of Pathology they also did not find any abnormality, no organism was seen, no Acid and Alcohol fast bacilli were seen. While at J J, (dated 10.12.07), through imaging they found periventricular leucomalacia. Her Brain Parenchyma was normal, ventricular system was also normal.

At Nair Hospital the child was sent on 20th June 2008 for Brainstem Evoked Response Audiometry which was also normal. Earlier at the G T Hospital, when she was 6 months old, their findings were linear Bands of hyper-pigmented irregularly shaped macules all over the body in a symmetrical fashion in a known case of Periventricular Leucomalacia. Child was admitted there many times, 1st when she was one month old and last when she was 6 months old. In this way she took a round of hospitals till she became 9 months old. At this stage she was declared as incurable and as having no brain. One expert suggested euthanasia.

CASE ANALYSIS

I saw this child on 14th September 2008. She was listless, unaware of the world, not recognizing nor sensing anything. Her eyes were open with a tear in the left eye and the snake like marks, symmetrically arranged, all over her body, her face, neck, back, chest, abdomen and extremities with some healed wounds on her Rt thigh, legs and abdomen, which were healed with marks of septic foci.

Her respiration was like Chyne Stokes- suddenly becoming fast then waning; so were her heart beats as if would jump out or stop! The mother used to hold her chest with one hand and her head with another. Or otherwise child would move by rolling like a snake here and there and which was the only one milestone that she learned! She was not fixing her eyes to any object, nor responding to any sound, or to any stimuli either. The only sensation which she showed was that by our magnetizing through hands, she used to become at rest, as if she liked that. Mother used to feed her through spoon; food went in with a noise like stridulate and that too when she cries, "it goes with a noise 'Gharrap', during sleep her respiration was also like that", said the mother.

On examination rattling in chest, umbilical hernia, frequent loud heart sounds with abnormal pulse. BCG mark was not there, neither scratch nor spot or a scar.

HISTORY IN DETAIL: The child was born prematurely at the seventh month. History revealed that in their family, one young person of their loved ones (Husband's sister's husband) had died in an accident when she was in 3rd trimester, ie in seventh month. Due to this incident mother went into grief and fright, element of the fright was more than the grief. She thought her in-laws would think that the unborn child was unlucky. Mother went into high grade psychological trauma which caused her to deliver prematurely. The child, while being discharged developed severe pneumonia and was kept back at the hospital.

I gave importance to two things: 1) she received shock inside the womb reflected from mother and 2) shock of the vaccines. My first prescription was Thuja as intercurrent considering the condition had been triggered after vaccination. Phosphorus was a clinical remedy.

The criteria for Phosphorus was: Kent Repertory; (i) Respiration accelerated (ii) Pulse accelerated (iii) Heart sounds frequent and loud (iv) History of recurrent pneumonia (v) Ailments after fright (reflected from mother) (vi) Response to Magnetization (vii) Stridulous breathing, at feeding and in sleep. At the time of sleep her lids remained half open.

Thuja 200/single dose of one pill followed by Phosphorus 30/3 doses, 12 hourly. Constitutional remedy was Carcinosin based on hyperactivity with no milestones. Interpretation;

- a) the child starts twisting and rolling continuously as mother releases her arms.
- b) shock in the intrauterine life.

Carcinosin was given in repeated doses in the form of molecular dilution (Nosode I; Research of the Aarish Academy, source is milk from a young mother of breast cancer who was cured through homoeopathy).

However, in a few days the child had started developing milestones which are building gradually. She has a 4 months old child's understandings since she has entered into consciousness at the age of nine months, (after receiving homoeopathy).

DISCUSSION: In India, Homoeopathy comes under the Ministry of the Indian System of Medicine which also includes Ayurveda, Unani, Siddha and other nature cure systems like Naturopathy and Yoga, etc. But do we understand Indian System? The Ancient Vedic Books of India define three components of blood and which they believe are the main causes of most of the diseases in mankind which are commonly occurring in our day to day life! Such as watha (air) dosha (affection), pittha dosha (affection of bile) and kapha dosha (affection of lymph). They term them watha-prakopa, pittha-prakopa and kapha-prakopa i.e. the affections through air, bile and lymph.

Srushti's case was affection through lymph, which I analyzed and perceived through this basic philosophy of the wisdom of our own Indian System. Modern virology science explains affection of lymph which usually occurring by entro-viruses through air (droplet infection), through contaminated water or food, or through physical contacts, injections and needles, etc. Homoeopathy explains this as syphilitic miasm and sycotic miasm which may be causing formation of gangrenes or ulcers, and formation of cysts or tumours, warts or mass, etc. The pathogens of TB and AIDS also come in this category.

Modern medical science explains entro-viruses or germs as acid fast and alcohol fast, means which may be crossing through the acidic barrier of stomach and also cannot be killed by spirits or alcohol alone. This category of viruses and pathogens are affecting lymph in the first place then through the portal system they can affect the whole body by causing sepsis, death of tissues or gangrene formation in any organ or even brain, leading to death or dead tissue.

Lymph flows inside the ventricles of the brain and also within the sheath which invests the funiculum of nerve fibre. Neurin is an albuminous basis of nerve tissue which is also a part of lymph.

Srushti's sufferings started at the time of discharge from the hospital when she was just 6 days old. She developed ARDS like symptoms in the form of severe pneumonia due to some droplet infection, was hospitalized at Lady Cama Hospital first then shifted to G T and was treated there. At age of 10 days at G T Hospital she received BCG and Oral Polio vaccines together which resulted into an aggravation of the initial symptoms.

Polio viruses are also entrovirus so is the BCG which include acid and alcohol fast antigens. At G T Hospital, surprisingly, the child was treated and receiving vaccines like a normal child. Did that further create multiple problems including delayed milestones. This continued until at J J Hospital, when she diagnosed with Peri Ventricular Leucomalacia and they stopped all vaccines. But by this time she had already received enough of the toxins.

She was brought to me at 9 months with no milestone except twisting like a snake, non-stop, and her skin looked like snake skin. In the beginning she used to cry a lot, and the mother explained it in such a way like as if that was her brain cry. But no doctor could have understood what had happened to the child. To me it took one month to know about the exact cause though I had already started treating her as a case of vaccinosis.

Vaccinosis is the most mysterious condition which is beyond the thinking of most of our allopathic colleagues. Yes indeed, as I started getting a good response after Nosode-I, what made leucomalacia was some vaccine! of which, I had no idea! I found Nosode-I (Homoeopathic vaccine, prepared by the author, from the milk of a mother with breast cancer who was cured through homoeopathy) as a strong remedy for cases of vaccine poisoning. It increases the immune system of a child so much so that it brings out the BCG mark and is a proof that the child has learnt how to fight with the pathogen of a vaccine.

I found more severe symptoms developed when she received triple antigen's booster dose. Peri ventricular leucomalacia means the brain tissues of periventricle areas have turned into dead tissues! Which made me wonder if she was a case of brain death? I questioned myself. Triple vaccine contains three antigens; Tetanus, Diphtheria and Pertussis.

And it is a well-known fact that Pertussin, the active ingredient of Pertussis vaccine, is causing brain death; there are lots of court cases pending in USA in this context! Was she a victim of this I questioned myself again? But then what about blue and black lines? Were they arteries, veins or nerves! I didn't get the answer until I read the anatomy and physiology of the central and peripheral nervous system in detail.

A vaccine can cause the development of toxic phlegma which can give rise to septic symptoms as well as meningitis, encephalitis and pneumonia, etc. Those linings like a snake skin indicating that a toxic substance, was inside the vein, arteries or nerves. The poison could cause immediate death. That took us another few days to understand. Yes indeed the ignorance of some medical experts could have killed this child. But "Jaa ko rakhe Saiyaan maar sake na koi" therefore homoeopathy cured her! God has saved her.

C5H13 No is a molecule, a toxic oxygenous ptomaine, a constant product of cadaveric putrefaction, an auxetic in cancer. This was being released from the cadaveric part of her brain area (periventricular) which was killed by Pertussis, the one component of the Triple vaccine. Thereafter it spread from the periventricular area towards the periphery through peripheral nerves into the perineurium which gave the resemblance of snake skin.

CONCLUSION: Srushti's case highlights the ignorance of her doctors rather than negligence!

1. Why is the child given the doses of conventional vaccines, at the age of just 10 days, when she was undergoing a serious illness from the age of 6 days? A vaccine increases the chance of contracting a disease if the child is unwell or weak.
2. All of the vaccines can produce side-effects, reactions may be ranging from soreness at the injection site to brain damage and death.
3. Post-vaccinal encephalitis is common, but most of the doctors do not relate this to the vaccine. Therefore the need is to educate doctors to curtail the incidence of neurological complications now commonly occurring in younger children, world wide. I found physical, mental and emotional disabilities of varying degrees who received 3 live vaccines at a time at the time of birth: BCG, OPV, and Hepatitis B.

I conclude all these conditions affect the individual, his or her family and society as well. As someone has said, "Health and illness are personal experiences belonging to the people undergoing them".

Therefore if the doctor or pediatrician does not report the vaccine reaction, parents must file their own report, to draw the attention of governments. Our conventional vaccines have not solved any problem but rather created new problems!

4. The World Book Encyclopedia, Volume 13 (1989), Page 345-clearly mentions about DTP (Diphtheria, Pertussis and Tetanus), any child who has received severe reaction to a previous dose or neurological disease or respiratory infection shouldn't be given this. Srushti's condition became worse after receiving the booster dose of this vaccine! In spite of that she was given boosters!! It is now a well known fact that pertussis vaccine may put a child at high risk, particularly in that child who is ill with anything. A child who was born prematurely or with low birth weight is at highest risk. I believe this and I have seen this in my 40 years of clinical practice now.
5. Above all we also need, The National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act, as it is in USA, (Public Law 99-660, passed by US Congress) for safety provisions and compensation. Srushti is not dead, because I treated her as a case of vaccinosis, caused due to a vaccine from the very beginning. I am an allopathic doctor by qualification, unfortunately most of the allopaths have no idea about this condition - vaccinosis, which have acute, sub-acute and longer effects! Here homoeopathy leads, I wish other doctors should also learn homoeopathy to save humanity.

Homoeopathy is a law if dead cells can generate a molecule, a molecule prepared from dead cancer cells can also regenerate them.
